Hello, everyone. Welcome to the September 2006 edition of the Radio HF Internet Newsletter. I welcome any new subscribers to this publication. We have a selection of links to web sites which I hope you will find informative and entertaining.

Here I am on Labour (Labor) Day, working on getting the September Newsletter finalized and out to you!

I have a busy September and October coming up with hamfests on several Saturdays. It was nice to meet many of the Newsletter subscribers this past weekend at the Ottawa ARC Hamfest in Carp, Ontario. It's always great to hear how much this Newsletter means to so many of you.

The complete list of books and publications available from Radio HF has just been updated for September and posted to the web page. Please feel free to browse through the hundreds of titles available at:

http://www.radiohf.ca/publications.htm

The Monthly Special Zone for September has sites dealing with United Planet Month, Ozone Day, International Coastal Cleanup and International Day of Peace.

THE MONTHLY SURVEY

LAST MONTH'S SURVEY

Your home catches on fire and, other than yourself, family members, pets, etc., you have a chance to grab only one thing from your home and take it to safety with you. What would that item be?

We received 17 responses to this question. The number one answer was photo albums with 5 votes. Next was ham or other radio equipment with 4 votes, and computers with 3 votes. Others included paintings, personal writings, a passport, and even one vote for a QSL collection!

THIS MONTH'S SURVEY

Let's talk about heroes or role models. Most of us have one, or more! It could be a family member, your mother or father perhaps. It could also be someone in the media, sports, politics, a famous person in history, or someone from any other fields. So, the question this month is simply put:

Who would you consider to be your hero or role model?

Please send your response, by e-mail, to hfnewsletter@...

THE MONTHLY SPECIAL ZONE

UNITED PLANET

http://www.unitedplanet.org/

September is United Planet Month. United Planet is an international non-profit public educational charity, open to the citizens of every country on Earth. The mission of United Planet is to foster cross-cultural understanding and friendship, support communities in need, and promote social & economic prosperity among cultures in order to unite the world in a community beyond borders.

OZONE DAY

http://ozone.unep.org/Events/7C_ozone_day_home.asp

Since 1995, on 16 September each year, the International Day for the Preservation of the Ozone Layer is celebrated. This date has been designated by the United Nations General Assembly in its resolution 49/114, to commemorate the signing of the Montreal Protocol on Substances that Deplete the Ozone Layer.

INTERNATIONAL COASTAL CLEANUP

http://www.coastalcleanup.org/pub1/

On September 16th, hundreds of thousands of people will descend on beaches, lakes, and streams all over the world to remove trash and debris -- on land and under the water. Volunteers of all ages from every continent will form the largest one-day volunteer event on behalf of clean oceans and waterways -- the International Coastal Cleanup.

THE INTERNATIONAL DAY OF PEACE

http://www.internationaldayofpeace.org/

The International Day of Peace, Peace Day, September 21. Join the worldwide movement to create a Global Ceasefire and day of peace and nonviolence.

THE RADIO ZONE

REGINALD FESSENDEN

http://groups.msn.com/fessenden

VIA Orn Arnason, Knowlton, Quebec

A new website has been launched to celebrate the contribution of pioneering Canadian scientist Reginald Fessenden to radio technology.
Although Guglielmo Marconi is much better known, Fessenden could justifiably claim to have played a bigger part in the development of radio than his Italian rival. The Canadian was responsible not only for the world's first audio radio broadcast but also the first two-way voice transmission by radio, between Massachusetts in the US and Machrihanish in Scotland. Despite his enormous contribution to radio, he is nowadays largely forgotten, most of the credit for radio's early development going to Marconi. The new website aims to redress this imbalance. It features more than 100 pages about Fessenden's radio accomplishments

THE HAMMARLUND HISTORIAN

http://www.hammarlund.info/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

This interesting page contains information, historical background, photos, manuals, etc. for one of the better known lines of radio equipment from years gone by.

SIGNALS COLLECTION 1940 to 1945

http://www.qsl.net/pe1ngz/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

This is a Dutch non-profit whose aim is to preserve and conserve allied army, navy and air force radio and radar equipment.

MARK'S RADIO, ELECTRONICS, AND OTHER WEB LINKS

http://home.comcast.net/~markwa1ion/exaol1/weblink.htm

VIA Mark Connelly, Billerica, Massachusetts

Mark is a ham radio operator, WA1ION, and has been involved in many DXpeditions, but may be best known for his amazing work with mediumwave DXing. This page is a collection of some of his own work, and links to other useful web pages.

S-METER

http://www.smeter.net/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

Check your signal and listen to others on remote communication receivers. Read thousands of pages of ham radio information. Run radio-related design programs from the web or download and run them from your hard disk. Everything at the S-Meter site is available without charge. Menus take you to major content sections. Thousands of other pages are buried within. Search from the bottom of any page to find what you are looking for if you don't see it in a menu.

TONNE SOFTWARE

http://tonnesoftware.com/

VIA Jim Tonne, Oak Ridge, Tennessee

A technically-oriented site for engineers and technicians offering to the fraternity a collection of original engineering software including Pizza, a program that allows you to print both great-circle (polar) and rectangular projections of maps of the world; BC Map, a program that allows you to see a map of North America and see the patterns of AM radio stations on a specified frequency; and Class E, an interactive Windows program to allow you to design RF amplifiers using the single-ended topology. Also, the Sites tab has some interesting links.

QSL CARDS FROM THE PAST BY W8JYZ

http://www.w8jyz.com

VIA Tom Root, Flushing, Michigan

The legacy of "Old Time" Ham Radio Operators can be found in the QSL cards they left behind. This Page is dedicated to those Old Time Radio Operators. There is a lot of information included on shortwave hobbyists as well.

TOKYO HAM FAIR 2006

http://aobajoke.no-ip.org/%7Eja7ude/hamfair2006/index.html

VIA David Ross, Hamilton, Ontario

Scroll through pages of information and photographs of the Tokyo, Japan Ham Fair courtesy of this page set up by Japanese amateur radio operator Nobuyuki Oba, JA7UDE.

PANDORA INTERNET RADIO

http://www.pandora.com/

VIA Skip Arey, Beverly, New Jersey

Pandora is a web site that lets you set up a personal favourite streaming music service. You suggest music or performers and it plays your choices and makes some suggestions. You can configure it any way you like. AND IT IS FREE!!! Their business model is CD sales. I heard it recommended by Bill Macrone on the WBAI PC show and I am hooked on it.

THE OLD RADIO NETWORK MAIL LISTS

http://lists.oldradio.net/

VIA Jay Spell, Santa Clarita, California

I very much enjoy the daily e-mailings from something called The OldRadio.Network. It has been going since 1994, and the contributors and operator are extremely knowledgeable concerning radio programs from day 1. U. S. programs are the main focus, but that is not intentional or by design. Information and input on old radio programs from anywhere in the world is encouraged and most welcome.

CFS BERMUDA

http://www.jproc.ca/rrp/bermuda.html

VIA Jerry Proc, Toronto, Ontario

The Canadian Forces Station Bermuda web document is now open for business - another one in the series about Canadian SIGINT stations Past and Present. Interestingly, the station used borrowed USN gear until the construction of permanent facilities was completed and also to prove itself during its probationary period.

THE GENERAL ZONE

MONGABAY TROPICAL RAINFOREST CONSERVATION

http://www.mongabay.com/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

Mongabay.com aims to raise interest in wildlife and wild lands while promoting awareness of environmental issues. Originally the site was based around a text on tropical rainforests ("A Place Out of Time: Tropical Rainforests - Their Wonders and the Perils They Face") that was developed four year period (1996-2000), but today the site has expanded in a number of different directions. In 2004 WildMadagasacar.org was developed to focus on the incredible biodiversity of Madagascar.

AUSTRALIAN ANTARCTIC DIVISION

http://www.aad.gov.au/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

The Australian Antarctic Division leads Australia's Antarctic Program. As an agency of the Department of the Environment and Heritage, our charter is to ensure Australia's Antarctic interests are advanced.
There are lots of fascinating features and links on this page dealing with all aspects of live in Antarctica.

http://antwrp.gsfc.nasa.gov/apod/astropix.html

VIA Gavin Jacobs, Calgary, Alberta

I usually check this site every day, and perhaps others with an interest in radio also have an interest in space. The pictures range from Hubble to ISS to whimsical.

LIGHTHOUSE GETAWAY

http://lighthousegetaway.com/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

If you're a fan of lighthouses, you'll love this page. There are numerous links to photographs, prints, etc. of lighthouses throughout North America and few beyond.

GREEN VALLEY SHORT LINE RAILROAD

http://greenvalleyshortline.org

VIA Cindy Canavan, Montreal, Quebec

The Green Valley Short Line Railroad Club came into being in 2006 when a group of live steam enthusiasts decided to help make the dream of a fellow hobbyist come true. Bob Canavan had retired in 1984 with the thought of settling on a few acres of land and setting up his very own track. But fate is not always kind to hard-working people, and over the next few years Bob slowly lost the use of his hands and arms. He was (and still is) able to share his extensive knowledge of all things mechanical, and those who had visited him through the years finally decided that the time had come to get it done.

AIRSHIPS: DJ'S ZEPPELIN PAGE

http://www.airships.net/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

This web site contains photos and historical documents about the great zeppelins, including the Graf Zeppelin, Hindenburg, and U.S. Navy dirigibles.

ONTARIO HERITAGE CONNECTION

http://www.ontarioheritageconnection.org/

VIA Geoff Geduld, Willowdale, Ontario

It's kind of off topic but it's one of my favourite sites. Eclectic but interesting.

PINHOLE PHOTOGRAPHY

http://www.pinholeday.org/support

VIA Elmer Standish, Courtenay, British Columbia

This site covers everything you need to know about pinhole photography. You'll learn about the history of pinhole photography and see some pinhole images. Then find out how to make your own camera.

THE HISTORY OF SANITARY SEWERS

http://www.sewerhistory.org/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

The purpose of this website is to house this dynamic collection of materials about the evolutionary development of sewers over the past 5500 years, and to provide a location for the sharing and distribution of information to others. The donation of additional photos, sketches, articles, books, or other sources of historical information on the history of sewers is welcome.

THE HISTORY OF GARBAGE TRUCKS & REFUSE COLLECTION

http://www.tigerdude.com/garbage/index.html

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

This page is actually quite interesting. It looks at the variety of vehicles used in garbage collection over the decades, plus there is a separate page on the history of garbage collection.

VIA Glenn Hauser, Enid, Oklahoma

Located in Harrison Hot Springs, British Columbia, this is more than just your sandcastle on the beach!

CLOWNZ BEWARE THE GREASE-PAINTED ONES!

http://www.clownz.com/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

When you look throughout history, it is only recently that clowns have 'evolved' into positive cultural icons. It is believed that the white-painted face first took significance (that I could find anyway) with the ancient Romans to depict hell-spawn; evil spirits raised from the dead to conquer and devour the souls of men. So they essentially had it right waaaaaay back then - why mess with a good thing? Why put a happy face on hell-spawn? Great way to lure the little kiddies. I've run across many examples of how clown-like entities have been used throughout time to represent the darker side of life and the spiritual worldsounds like a wonderful research paper for a student to explore, don't you think?
